Summary of reasons for decision:

The computer image file is deemed objectionable because it promotes and supports the exploitation of young persons for sexual purposes under s3(2) of the Films, Videos, and Publications Classification Act 1993. The file is a series of 16 images taken from an explicit video showing the sexual abuse of a teenage girl. The likely purpose of the material is the sexual arousal and gratification of viewers with a sexual interest in girls, and its availability encourages sexual exploitation. The classification of this publication interferes with the right to freedom of expression set out in the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990. However, this is an outcome that is consistent with Parliament's intention and is a reasonable limitation on the freedom of expression. The classification reflects the concern of a free and democratic society to protect its young and vulnerable members from sexual exploitation.
